

South Saskatchewan
First Responders
Coordinators Committee

Attention Sponsors:

The South Saskatchewan First Responder Coordinator Committee is hosting its 11th annual First Responder development weekend:
Jan.28, 29, 30, 2011.

Carry on the tradition Join our 11th annual conference

This weekend has been set up to help Saskatchewan First Responders and maintain their minimum level of training and introduce them to some new skills. These skills may be used in any emergency situation the First Responder may encounter.

First Responders are true dedicated volunteers in the community who give freely of themselves in emergency situations. They are from all areas of the province and they may show up at a pipeline accident, power pole down, motor vehicle collision, medical crisis, fire standby or special event first aid stations. They respond to any emergency or potential emergency that may arise.

First Responders are the first line of help in a crisis and are usually on scene within 10 minutes of receiving the call. Often they are required to help friends and neighbours until the ambulance arrives.

These dedicated volunteers depend on the generosity and help of local fund raising to support their groups. The local health Regions also provide support to the First Responder groups in the form of in-service training, disposable supplies and cooperative group pricing. This varies from health region to health region and is of course subject to available funding within a given region. These are true volunteers who are not paid for their efforts and often costs them to respond (i.e. *vehicle mileage, gas, time away from work, etc.). This is why we look for support for our true dedicated volunteers.

In order to help offset some of the cost of this development weekend and to decrease the financial burden on our First Responder groups we are actively looking to corporate sponsorship. We have developed several sponsorship packages. Any support is welcome. Depending on the amount of your contribution your corporate name will be displayed prominently at the various venues. Trade show displays are also welcome.

These groups are worthy of your support. We are asking for your assistance for this event. Please review the corporate packages, and at you earliest convenience, respond with the intended amount of your contribution.

Thank you for your contribution to this project.
